Small Group Ministry at RLC

(Small Group) ministry is not “another program”; it’s the very heart of the church.

–Joel Comiskey

From
Pastor
Steve

I hear it regularly, “I simply can’t do one more thing.” In fact, I’m willing to concede this was how many of you responded to hearing about the Small Group Campaign at RLC. And, I don’t blame you. Life is hurried and harried, and we must put boundaries around our schedules for the sake of healthy living. I’m with you.

With limited time and energy we must prioritize our lives with what’s most important. Importance is why I’d like you to consider making a small group one of your highest priorities. This may mean some creative scheduling, this may mean giving up something less important, this certainly means making a sacrifice. Here are a few reasons why we think you should join a small group...

- “Doing Life Together” is how Jesus modeled ministry. He did worship on the Sabbath, but corporate worship was not Jesus’ only ministry. Primarily Jesus did ministry in a small group with twelve others.
- “Doing Life Together” is how the early Christian church did ministry, “They broke bread in their homes and ate together with glad and sincere hearts, praising God and enjoying the favor of all the people.”
- “Doing Life Together” is how God has been leading RLC to do ministry. Now is the time to practice what we’ve preached!

Are you ready to really start “doing life together?” Are you ready to make the change of a lifetime? Are you ready to be transformed like you’ve never been before?

TOGETHER, we will join with others to grow in our relationship with Christ and one another.

TOGETHER, we will become more Christ-centered individuals, spouses, parents, children, neighbors, co-workers, disciples.

TOGETHER, we will make disciples who worship, grow, serve, and steward.

TOGETHER, we will change our little corner of the world for Jesus.

Coming this spring! A renewed focus on small group ministry for RLC!

Trying Something a Little Different this Lenten Season...

From
Pastor
Corey

This may sound a bit odd, but I didn't try guacamole until I was in my mid-twenties. Now, I had seen it before-this green, chunky mixture in a bowl, and I had even seen people eat it, but not me. Nope, not gonna try it. Too green, too weird.

Then one afternoon, while I was visiting my good friends Tim and Cindy, I watched Tim as he scooped out some avocado and began going to serious work in making a beautiful bowl of guacamole. I took the tortilla chip, and loaded it up for my first bite. Wow!!! Little spicy, lots of flavor and I was hooked for life.

Trying something new can be a bit trepidatious, but it can also be exciting... especially when God is the focal point. This year, we are going to introduce a different form of Lenten services. They'll continue to begin with a soup supper at 6 PM followed by a worship service at 7 PM. The worship service will take on a different form this year. We will pray and sing together; we'll hear messages that highlight certain biblical people and their relationships with God; we'll spend some time in a guided meditation on what we just heard; we'll have an experiential and tangible time that relates to the message. Our goal is to have a deep time of worship and contemplation that draws us closer to Jesus.

Here's a heads up on what we'll be talking about:

- Week 1: Repentance (Tale of Two Men: Judas and Peter)
- Week 2: Rebellion (Jonah running away)
- Week 3: Return (David's loss of son)
- Week 4: Response (Isaiah in the temple)
- Week 5: Risk (Paul)

Lent is a time of contemplation and repentance as we focus our minds on the amazing gift of God's love in Jesus Christ. We hope you will join us this season of Lent for a different experience of fellowship and worship. Remember, don't be afraid to try the guacamole-you may just love it!

President's Perspectives - Blessings During Hard Times

By the time this Preview is printed it may well be sunny and warm. But as I write this we are in the middle of the worst week of winter weather I have ever experienced since moving here fifty-three years ago. Because our street normally has little traffic we were not included in the city's plans for plowing and the snow became too deep for our low sedan vehicles. We were marooned in our house for over four days before a private contractor was hired to plow our street.

While we experienced some restrictions during that time we also realized many blessings. It made me realize more clearly how God can use all things, even adversity, to bring about good. More than ever we were so grateful that we had plentiful food supplies in our home, that our home had electricity for lights, water for drinking and showers, that we had natural gas for heat, and especially that we had our gas fireplace. And when we couldn't get out, or our newspaper couldn't be delivered, we had access to news, our family, and friends through the electronic marvels of our age such as cell phones, computers, and television sets.

When I was reminded of the homeless I had seen begging on the street corners just the week before, I felt real compassion for their circumstances. Add to that the closing of the Food Bank and no delivery of Meals on Wheels for a couple of days.

We also experienced the good in people, including our neighbors, who we rarely see or speak to. I and a couple of other neighbors helped shovel snow out from below my neighbor Justin's vehicle when he got stuck, and later that night he came to our door to offer to drive us to the store anytime we needed it. When I tried to drive my car onto the street and got stuck within the first fifteen feet, another neighbor, Rob, came out of his house to try to free my car. He was joined by a neighbor, Don, I'd never met, to push my car back out of the street and into a spot near the curb. Tristan, a young man across the street agreed to help us shovel snow off the sidewalk for whatever we wanted to pay him and we learned about his school plans and career hopes.

Richard, a recent neighbor who had moved out in December, came by to warn the new residents of his former home about the risks of ice dams on a particular place on the roof. When he saw us shoveling he stopped to visit and then couldn't get his vehicle to move in the snow so we and other neighbors again shoveled under the car to free him.

The next day Sandy, a high school girl from across the street, came over with a couple of tools and offered to help us scrape any ice. Later that evening, Sandy and her mother, Laura, knocked on our door to give us a container of fresh, warm, caramel candy rolls that they had just made and were delivering to neighbors.

In all of these interactions, while braving cold and often back-aching work, we enjoyed conversations which we usually never experience with our neighbors. We all came together to work for each other and to provide what others needed. In all this I felt God at work.

Though because of the snow and ice we couldn't be with our church family, it reminded me of Jesus' command that his disciples must love another. As Jesus said in John 13:35 - "By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another." A lesson for all of us is to learn from hard times and use all our opportunities to show God's love to others.

Silva,
Member-
At-Large

From the Council - What's in a Name?

Let me introduce myself. My name is Valerie Silva and I'm a new member of the RLC Council. I've been part of this congregation since my family moved here in 1975. I'm a clinical pharmacist at Tri-Cities Community Health, where I'm privileged to work in helping our medical underserved population. I love music! How blessed we are to be able to praise God through song! For four years in the 1990s, I was a missionary to Kenya, with the World Mission Prayer League. I care deeply about the movement of God's church throughout the world. I enjoy learning about people of other cultures and like to study various languages to begin to understand what they reveal about the worldview of the people who use them.

My name is Valerie. It's originally derived from the Latin name: Valerius. It's spelled a variety of ways and used for both men and women as either Valerie or Valeria. In English, the accent is on the first syllable and, of course, we shorten it to Val. In French, Spanish, & Russian, the accent is on the second syllable. There are at least four Russian cosmonauts named Valery. In Kenya, many people called me Valeria, because it was much easier for them to pronounce, especially as it rhymes with malaria!

Valerie is related to the root word for valor and means: strong, brave, robust, valiant, worthy. I have liked this and incorporated it into my self-image. Early on I also took on those fundamental American values of self-reliance, independence, "pulling yourself up by your own bootstraps", and "when the going gets tough, the tough get going". In many ways, these values served me well in my life. That is, of course, until they didn't. Until things were too hard. Until I was too broken. Until there was nothing left of my own strength. Until I was eventually forced to begin to learn about true reliance on God.

Would it shock you to know I was already a missionary when I finally started understanding this? That I hadn't realized how much my self-reliance means I wouldn't rely on God. That being independent means I wouldn't trust God enough to rely on him. That if I must figure my own way to pull myself out of difficulties, then I wouldn't truly seek God's plans for me. (Including the terrifying possibility that he's going to let me stay in those difficulties!) And, maybe most of all, that if I have to be tough, if I have to be strong, then I'm not going to be open to allowing God to work through my weaknesses. And, oh, dear brothers and sisters in Christ, this is a lesson I just keep having to re-learn! Even though God always shows himself to be worthy of my trust, I keep trying to grab the control back from him!

God's Word speaks to this problem; I know he understands my struggle. These are some examples:

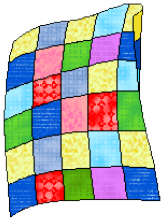

Psalm 46: 1 "God is our refuge and strength, an ever-present help in trouble."

Romans 8:26 "In the same way, the Spirit helps us in our weakness. We do not know what we ought to pray for, but the Spirit himself intercedes for us with groans that words cannot express."

2 Cor 12: 9b "My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness. Therefore I will boast all the more gladly about my weaknesses, so that Christ's power may rest on me."

Phil 4:13 “I can do everything through him (Jesus) who gives me strength.”

1 Pet 4:11b “If anyone serves, he should do it with the strength God provides, so that in all things God may be praised through Jesus Christ.

My struggle continues: to turn daily to God for strength instead of egotistically believing and acting as if I'm enough on my own. I don't have to be enslaved to the sinful temptation to think I'm self-sufficient. God has claimed me as his daughter, and I am not my own. Imagine: he uses even my weaknesses for his glory! So, yes, my name is Valerie and it means what it means. But I have a better name to cling to.

My name is Child of God!

Prayer and Fasting

Lent is starting soon and the RLC Prayer Ministry Team would like to invite you to join us in something a little different this year. Typically, we hold a prayer vigil that begins on Good Friday and ends on Easter morning. This year, we would like to add a new facet to our prayer vigil - fasting. For some of you, this may be a whole new experience, while for others it may be something you've done once or twice, or it may be a regular part of your devotional practices.

For our purposes, this involves fasting from food for a specific period of time. Fasting can take a variety of forms - for instance, eating only fruits, vegetables and water for a portion of a day, or having nothing but water. You may fast for only one meal, or two meals, or a full day. And, if your body is ready, you may even fast for two or three days. We recommend that you start small, maybe skip lunch or dinner one day, and build up slowly to a longer fast. If you have any medical issues that may make fasting difficult for you, it would be a good idea to speak to your doctor to see if, or how, you should fast.

Because we are focusing on spiritual growth in fasting, it is important then to take the time that you would normally be using to prepare and eat a meal for worship, Bible study and prayer. Turn on some praise music, read and contemplate on a passage of Scripture, and spend time praying and listening to God. You might consider keeping a journal of your time, noting what you studied, what you prayed about, and what you learned or heard from God in this time.

If you would like more information about fasting, please feel free to contact Elaine Keyes, Valerie Silva or Kelly Westlund on the Prayer Ministry Team. We will have another article in the April Preview, and will also start a Facebook group page on March 1 for the Lent season. You will be able to chat with others, ask questions, and get support for your fasting. For a daily devotional email with lots of great, practical information about fasting go to <https://www.ifapray.org/daily-devotional/how-to-fast-successfully/> and sign up for their 21-day email series.

Mission Prayer Team

Every mission team needs the support of the church family that sends them out to do mission and ministry in the name of Jesus Christ. Here at RLC we have several such teams. We have a mission team going to Lodge Grass, MT, to serve on the Crow Indian Reservation each summer. We have members of our congregation who serve in Jordan year round. Other RLC members join in the mission and ministry of East European Missions Network and serve on short-term mission teams in Slovakia and Estonia. In fact, all of these different missions events are happening in 2019!!

The RLC Mission Prayer team prays for these events, as well as our local outreach missions events such as the annual Block Party, VBS, Christmas events, the Jefferson Tutoring program and many more. Through prayer, we connect with God for His guidance, His will for RLC and the missions we carry out. Meeting together in prayer keeps these prayer concerns fresh in our minds and adds focus to our prayer efforts.

The Mission Prayer team invites you to be a part of this vital ministry. We meet on Saturday afternoons at 4:30 PM in the Friendship Room. (This time can be changed if it is a difficult time for many to meet!) Contact: Valerie Silva

RLC Men's Mini-Retreat

The Life You've Always Wanted

Saturday, March 23, 2019

8:30 AM - 2:00 PM

Now that our February winter blast is behind us and fair weather is just around the corner, the RLC Men's Ministry is hosting its annual spring retreat in the Prince of Peace fellowship hall on Saturday, March 23.

Pastor Steve will present the retreat, "The Life You've Always Wanted," from John Ortberg's book of the same name. Ortberg quotes biblical scholar Lewis Smedes, "have you ever been frustrated with what you know of spiritual life, ever wondered if real change is possible, ever felt confused or stuck...?" Then Ortberg suggests this topic is for you.

"How do I grow? What does a spiritually mature person even look like? Why does it seem so hard, and go so slowly? Will I ever really be any different?" We hope men of RLC and their friends will join us as we address these questions.

Schedule

- 8:30 Continental Breakfast
- 9:00 Session One: Transformation and Spiritual Disciplines
- 10:15 Break
- 10:30 Session Two: Practicing Spiritual Disciplines
- 11:45 Lunch
- 12:30 Session Three: Developing a Rule of Life
- 2:00 Dismissal

We would encourage RLC men to bring their friends to join in the fellowship, spiritual lessons, camaraderie and blessings.

The spring Retreat on March 23 takes the place of the regularly scheduled Men's Breakfast March 16. Cost for the Retreat and food service is $15.00. We ask that you register with Kelly at the RLC Office (509) 943-3164 or on the yellow slip at worship by March 10. For questions or registration email Norm Gillette at nlg1939@msn.com or Ted Stuenkel at otstuenkel@aol.com.

LCMC NW District Gathering

My Feet are On the Rock:
Standing Firm
in a Shifting
World

RLC prepare to be spiritually RE-ENERGIZED! It's been said that "some people just don't know...what they don't know!" Come to the LCMC NW District Gathering May 3-4 at RLC. You don't have to travel to long-distance destinations like Lebanon, Oregon, or Whitefish, Montana, to be spiritually fed, because this year the event is in your own back yard. We all need to show up and grow in our knowledge and faith in Jesus Christ. The conference speakers and breakout sessions will encompass evangelism, outreach, community service, discipleship, worship, Bible study and social issues. You will be challenged to think outside the box, with new insight and vision for whatever ministry you are deeply passionate about. Here is a quick snapshot of speakers and breakout sessions:

- Mark Vander Tuig has been the service coordinator for the LCMC since 2010. He grew his last church from worshipping 74 every weekend to 1,100.
- Walt Kallestad is the former Senior pastor of Community Church of Joy in Glendale Arizona. This popular national/international speaker and author, grew his congregation from 200 to over 10,000 during his 26-year tenure.
- Jeff Simunds of Tower of Light Ministries provides help and support for people struggling with unwanted same-sex attractions.
- Mary and Walt Kallestad will mentor pastors juggling church ministry with family home life in two breakout sessions.
- Richland Lutheran Church service and evangelism showcase...are you aware of all the wonderful ministries that take place every day here at RLC?
- Living Way Bible Study is the solution for growing churches, empowering spiritual growth for every congregation by examining Scripture in four different ways, to help participants develop a personal relationship with Jesus Christ.

If you register by March 31, the fee is only $55. You can sign-up online at the RLC website or drop off your registration form/check at the RLC office. In addition, the Gathering committee needs volunteers to help out with registration, greeting, chair set-up, and sanctuary/campus security during the two-day event. If you would like to serve, volunteer sign ups will take place after all worship services in early April.

If you have any questions about the Gathering, please contact committee chairs Pete and Joan Mattich at 360-790-2600 or (pinerpoint@gmail.com). We look forward to seeing you there!

ShopwithScrip Part 2

An article in last month's Preview explained how Scrip, which looks and works like a gift card, can be ordered at RLC and provide additional funds for RLC's Food Pantry. Have you followed the directions in the February Preview to check <https://www.shopwithscrip.com> for the list of retailers? My husband and I find it easy to make a mental note of where we are buying items. When we get home, we check the web site and make a "shopping list" of what scrip cards we want to order. We bring our list on Sunday to Don Grewe, our RLC Scrip coordinator, who takes care of ordering the cards and has them ready for pickup on the following Sunday.

However, some of you may wonder if there is a way to order scrip which bypasses the need for transactions at church but may still benefit the RLC Food Pantry. There is.

With RLC's enrollment code, you may go to the Scrip website <https://www.shopwithscrip.com> and "Join a Program." The enrollment code, 29C9CDE761931, is unique to our church. Anyone who uses RLC's code will be linked to RLC's program and all the rebates earned will go to RLC's Food Pantry.

Using this option, one pays for their card(s) using Presto Pay. You may order any of the electronic cards (ScripNow) without the coordinator assistance and also reload any of the participating retailers gift cards without the coordinator's assistance. The Scrip you purchase online will be sent to RLC along with the orders which are placed at the church on Sunday. You may pick your script card(s) up between services the following Sunday.

We appreciate your support of the Food Pantry program and are grateful to the volunteers who show God's love to those who benefit. shopwithscrip.com

Women's Book Club

Our next book is "The Knowledge of the Holy" by A. W. Tozer. This book illuminates God's attributes—from wisdom, to grace, to mercy—and in doing so, attempts to restore the majesty and wonder of God in the hearts and minds of all Christians. A modern classic of Christian testimony and devotion, The Knowledge of the Holy shows us how we can rejuvenate our prayer life, meditate more reverently, understand God more deeply, and experience God's presence in our daily lives. We will meet to discuss this book on Friday, March 29, (not Thursday because of the Lenten service) at Nancy Ballard's home, 2110 Austin Ct., in Richland. Contact: Joanne Woehle, 521-9311 or jomawo@hotmail.com.

Operation Christmas Child

March Operation Christmas Child request: Clothing Items

Socks, t-shirts, leggings, flip-flops, hats, fashion scarves, bandanas, underwear, "pillow case" dresses, other easily packed clothing items

Monetary contributions are welcome, as well. With your financial donation, we are able to purchase items in bulk and cover the $9 per box shipping expense (total shipping for our goal is $3600).

Thank you for your ongoing support of this ministry that tangibly expresses our love of Christ through a simple box of gifts. Please also pray for the recipients of the boxes, that they will be drawn into a closer relationship with Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior.
